Letters to the Editor:

I would appreciate if you would see fit to insert in your valuable paper the following letter:

As a former Reeve of Lutterworth Township and member of the Committee of Reeves on the Rural Development Planning Study for the County of Haliburton, I believe I am justified in saying that there has been a shotgun wedding between the members of the Committee of County Council, namely the Reeves and the consulting firms involved.

This wedding must be brought to the attention of the Ministry of the Treasury owing to the fact that the local residents have not had ample opportunity to discuss the pros and cons of the purposed plan being that the Ministry saw fit to assure us that they would pay 75% of the total cost.

As a taxpayer who will be assessed for a portion of the cost of this plan, I believe it would be in the best interest of all taxpayers in Lutterworth Township for our incoming council to go on record and inform the County Council that they are not prepared to endorse this plan until such time as the permanent residents, non residents and Public Press have had an opportunity to see a copy of what the Committee and the Consultants have concurred in. After all the public of this Province as whole are paying 75% of the total cost of the Plan.

Our non residents who are taxpayers in this municipality and pay over 90% of the taxes, these non residents should have an opportunity to see what this Rural Development Planning Study Committee of County Council and Consultants are recommending for our concurrence. As a former Reeve who attended one of the meetings I understood from the Members of the Ministry who attended the meeting that the Permanent Residents, the non Residents, and the Public Press would be given every opportunity as to what the Rural Plan Study Committee of County Council and Consulting firms concurred in.

Surely the committee and the consultants would not expect the taxpayers of this Municipality to endorse this plan when they have no knowledge as to what the content of the plan is.

I respectfully suggest that the County Council instruct the Clerk Treasurer of the County to forward a true copy of the plan to the real guardians of the people, the Public Press.

Yours truly, PAT CONAGHAN

LETTER TO THE EDITOR:terworth. What is the purpose of having members on the Lutterworth Council spending township monies and voting on Township business who are in effect not a resident or a taxpayer to this Municipality?

We must urge all ratepayers to check the Preliminary List of Electors and make sure their candidate is a ratepayer in this Township to insure good government in this Municipality.

Yours truly,

3 seek Deputy seat in Anson, Hindon, Minden

MINDEN — Deputy-Reeve Doug Pritchard, who has served on Anson, Hindon and Minden council for the last eight years, the last six as deputy-reeve, will find stiff opposition for his seat come Nov. 13. Mr. J. O. (Jack) Jackson and Robert Gorrie will both be trying to garner enough votes unseat him.

DOUG PRITCHARD

Samantha READS YOUR STARS

If you were born this week: Your quick mind can cut to the heart of any matter, and you're not easily deceived. Your emotions are strong and you act on them more often than you'd like. You know how to keep a secret — both your own and others'. You make a good friend and a formidable enemy.

ARIES (3-21/4-19): Romantic dilemma could have sexy repercussions. Be sure you know your treats from your tricks, Aries. Give special attention to routine matters; don't think they're unimportant just 'cause they seem mundane. Play your hunch about a certain party and you'll see behind his mask.

TAURUS (4-20/5-20): Spicy newcomer may have you entranced. Romantic witchcraft is always such fun. Enjoy, Taurus! Be a calming influence on an emotional domestic situation or it could become a steaming cauldron. Later, roll up your sleeves and pitch in — there's work to do. Week buzzes away.

GEMINI (5-21/6-20): We all know you love to talk, Gem. And we grant that communication is important. But, the next time you wonder why you don't get as much done as you'd like, add up the hours you spend ratcheting. Don't get red in the face, just get busy, baby! Days come to kissing fini.

MOONCHILD (6-21/7-22): Tempting offers try to separate you from your pennies in week ahead, Moonbaby. Play crab and hang on to 'em tightly. Make necessary calls, expect a piece of news and welcome the new moon with a party.

LEO (7-23/8-22): Check your foundations this week, Leo. If you've built your castle on sand, you may have problems, for somebody's lurking in the bushes with a whole lot of water. And she's just about ready to throw it. Friendly witch helps out.

VIRGO (8-23/9-22): Week starts quietly if you ignore gossip and innuendos, Virgo. And please do — they're worthless. Then, you won't need a magic wand to lure the birds out of the trees; all you need is your own special charm!

LIBRA (9-23/10-23): Resources are highlighted this week, Libby. Don't spend all your time, talent and money in one place. Spread the wealth a little bit. Later, mum's the word to be assured of a special treat by week's finale.

SCORPIO (10-24/11-22): You're even more bewitching than the excitement of All Hallows Eve, Scorpio. You're mysterious, magnetic and sexy and others feel privileged to be a part of your circle. Happy Birthday, dear heart.

SAGITTARIUS (11-23/12-21): Everyone enjoys a masquerade, especially a fun-loving soul like you, Sag. Just remember, the masks have to come off sooner or later, and you don't want to be caught in a compromising position when they do. Week's end sees you bobbing for apples. How sweet they are.

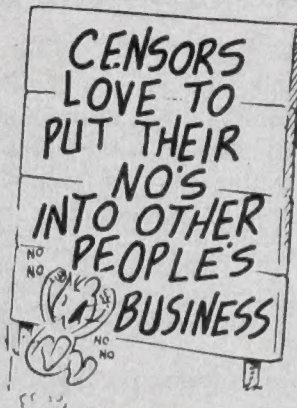

CAPRICORN (12-22/1-19): Finalize plans this week, Cappy. Make those proverbial lists, look up the right contacts and be ready to roll before last day. Later, if you're setting out on a pumpkin patch vigil, you'll have lovin' company.

AQUARIUS (1-20/2-19): One who makes heavy demands on you doesn't seem to realize that you have other commitments besides his. Wake him up, Aquari. Don't bother being subtle — hit 'im over the head with your broom. Days sweep by.

PISCES (2-20/3-20): A word to the wise, Pisces: a smile works wonders. Let others know you care, even those self-sufficient types. Week includes a few secrets, several disclosures and the shadow of a doubt. Week tiptoes off.

No two persons have identical fingerprints and their pattern cannot be altered.

Former Councillor seeks Deputy seat in Lutterworth

LUTTERWORTH — Former councillor Ingram Wessell, who served three years on Lutterworth council before being defeated in the last election will now try to win the deputy-reeves seat. He will be contesting the seat against former councillor for the last two years, Glynne Lewis.

Two seek Deputy-Reeve seat in Township of Snowdon

SNOWDON — Mrs. Grace Simmons has threw her hat in the ring for the upcoming election here for the deputy-reeves seat, vacated by former deputy-reeve Don Smedmore. Also challenging Mrs. Simmons will be former councillor of the past four years John Francis.

Save Time & Money

BY ANN FRANCES DOLAN

PUSHUP CO-OP — New apartment building wrinkle is the exercise co-op, whereby women (and men, too) residents pool and share exercise equipment. Great idea, especially when the building has a spare room or rec center with space to be converted into a gym. To organize your own co-op, poll neighbors to see who has what and who wants to join. Charge non-equipment owning participants a nominal fee and use the funds to purchase new or reconditioned equipment. Joint exercise is more fun, and remember you don't need machinery to do calisthenics — just out-of-shape bodies.

FAT OUT — Excess fat on soup or stew can be removed by skimming an ice cube wrapped in cheesecloth over the surface. Paper towels, folded to several thicknesses will also serve, if you don't drop them in the hot liquid. A bulb baster will draw up grease from a skillet.

AVOCADO FACIAL — Peel and mash a ripe avocado and blend in a tablespoon of fresh wheat germ. Rub this into skin and leave on a half hour. Leaves skin soft and clear. Make cream fresh each time — avocado darkens with storage.

BAGGIE — For Saturday morning's dirty chores, make a disposable apron from a plastic garbage can liner. Cut holes for arms and neck; slip over clothing and dispose of when messy jobs are finished.

RECYCLED AIR — The Carrier Air Conditioning folks have a new device that automatically recycles heat energy from residential air conditioning units to the hot water system. Company claims it allows water heaters to run less when the air conditioner (or heat pump) is operating. See your Carrier dealer for details.

Think small

by Jim Smith

Pass It On

The story was patently false. At first, everyone knew it was a lie.

By the second telling, however, it had become a "rumour".

On the third round, it was "reliably reported".

And, after that, everyone knew that it was the truth.

Tell a story — even the most outrageous lie — often enough and it eventually comes to be recognized as the truth. Which is what has happened to the belief that small businesses in Canada are less active in export markets than big firms.

Some popular misconceptions really don't matter a great deal. Does it make the slightest difference whether the telephone was invented in Brantford or Buffalo, for example?

But other misconceptions do matter. The issue of export drive is one of those issues that count. We live, after all, in a global economy and any group of firms which fail to compete for international business are letting the home side down, as it were.

For many years, the small business community has been claiming that it does pursue export markets vigorously while big business has been arguing that only large-scale firms are capable of getting into foreigners' pocketbooks. There has never been any solid evidence to support the claims by either side (although, when you realize that most big businesses in this country are subsidiaries of multinational firms, it doesn't make much sense to imagine those big firms competing with the head office for world markets). But a new study by Talaat Abdel-Malek of the University of Saskatchewan has finally cast a scientific light on the entire dispute.

Abdel-Malek has found — after surveying large numbers of big and little businesses — that there is no significant difference between the export attitudes of big business and those of small business. In fact, small business in Canada is every bit as active in the export fields as are Canadian big businesses.

If anything, Abdel-Malek's study would seem to fail to take full account of the role of the smaller firms. A surprisingly large portion of the production by small manufacturing firms is done as sub-contracting on major contracts by big business.

The big business assembles the components produced by the smaller businesses and then exports the final product. Even though the small firm's production is destined for the export market, it only counts as domestically-oriented for purposes of the survey.

Time and again, our nation's economic counsellors have advocated creation of more big businesses as the answer to Canada's international trade problems. Abdel-Malek's study shows that industrial strategy to be quite inadequate. Discrimination against small firms cannot be justified by international trade considerations.

A patently false story will always remain patently false, no matter how many retellings lend it a veneer of "truth". Small firms are as export-oriented as big firms. Pass it on.

WILF & PHYLLIS ACKERBLADE

Wilf and Phyllis Ackerblade win Mr. and Mrs. tourney

CARNARVON — Sunday afternoon at Carnarvon Lanes the 3rd annual Mr. & Mrs. 1000 Lakes Bowlers Association tournament was rolled. After three tough games Wilf and Phyllis Ackerblade emerged the winners posting a score of 175 over their combined averages. The remarkable thing about this victory is the fact that Wilfred had to sit out all of last season with a chronic back ailment. He and wife Phyllis returned to the lanes this season and bowled on Sunday. They will now lead the top eight couples from Carnarvon to Fenelon Falls next Sunday to take part in the Zone finals.

Here are the final standings: 1st Wilf and Phyllis Ackerblade plus 175; Dan and Brenda Harding plus 129; Larry and Debbie Allin 85; Ron and Marlene Robinson 59; Harold and Martha Harding 54; Dave and Hilda McFarlane also 54; Morris and Ida MacLachlan 36 and Garth and Flo Henderson plus 3. These eight will now advance to the finals.

Carnarvon Lanes Association thank all the sponsors who donated prizes for the tournaments top 10 finishers, Northland Surplus, Minden Home Hardware, Brown Owl Restaurant, Minden IGA, Haliburton Stedman's, Driftwood Restaurant, Bargain Barn, Mr. Fogg's and Obie's General Store.

Canadian Comment

BY PETER WARD

OTTAWA (SF) — There's something of a conflict between the plans of the Defence Department and the federal government's current efforts to prove financial responsibility. A year ago the government promised Defence that there would be 4,700 additional men allowed into the depleted Armed Forces because there simply were not enough bodies in uniform to perform the tasks assigned to our military.

So far 800 additional servicemen have been taken on strength, compared to the 1,400 expected by Defence. At the rate of 400 additional servicemen per year, it will take 12 years to bring the military up to strength.

Then there's the contract for new jet fighters which will cost nearly $3 billion. It looks like that one is going ahead, despite the fact there has been only weak justification for the need to spend that much.

There's another $570 million on the planning board at Defence headquarters which hasn't even been discussed in public. We're buying the new fighters for Canada to protect us against the manned bomber threat. The detection equipment, installed more than 20 years ago, is now outdated, and up for replacement.

The Arctic DEW line is the responsibility of the U.S., in the view of Canadian planners, and replacing those stations with a modern radar detection fence is going to cost $1 billion plus. Looks like the Americans are going to do it, too.

Further south there's the Pine Tree line, which is Canadian all the way. Radars along the Pine Tree are now obsolete, so we're figuring on something like $250 million to replace the equipment. In addition, we have to build an automated control center to look after the western Canadian air sector at Edmonton, and replace the guts of the underground control center at North Bay, Ont. Chalk up another $100 million plus.

We are also being pressed to supply two AWACS radar picket and control aircraft — Boeing 707s with a huge radar dish mounted on top of the fuselage. Those cost $110 million plus each and bring the total detection spending forecast to $570 million.

I can see the reason for not talking too loudly about plans to refurbish our detection equipment. Once we are definitely committed to purchasing new jet fighters, we'll be slapped with the rationale that we need the updated radar equipment to make the new fighters worthwhile.

There are, however, more productive things to do with the Defence budget than slap the whole thing into spending for defence against manned bombers.

Thinking Slim

BY JEAN NIDETCH

I remember how delicious it was to be a child with a birthday in view. Especially the way my family "celebrated!" Whoever said one cake only? Which, of course, was one factor that led to my being fat.

Still, birthdays demand celebrations and if you have a youngster on a weight control program who is about to add a year, how can you celebrate and please everyone? Denise, a young mother I know, came up with one solution.

"Cindy, my 11-year-old daughter, has lost seven pounds so far (she still has 13 to go), and I can't tell you how proud I am of her. Of course, I tell her constantly and that helps her avoid the snacks her friends are constantly eating," Denise said.

"When her birthday came here, I wracked my brains for something special and finally came up with a bit of the Far East!

"Why not have an Oriental party? For decorations, I decided on papier-mache obis for the girls and swords for the boys. And I put up Japanese lanterns and bells.

"As for the food, I let each youngster create his or her own oriental shish kabob. I set out a plate of cubed chicken and fish, soy sauce, all kinds of vegetables — mushrooms, tomatoes, pepper, onions — and let each one skewer his shish kabob as he pleased.

"Then I did the broiling on a hibachi (you can use a regular broiler, of course, or an outdoor grill), and I've never seen kids so delighted.

"Cindy was thrilled, too. Especially with dessert. It was the best chocolate cake ever from my copy of the Weight Watchers International Cookbook, and not one of Cindy's guests ever suspected!"

Jim Masters rolls 234 single

CARNARVON — Last Saturday morning Jimmy Masters, a second year bantam in the Youth Bowling program, came up with the highest single game ever rolled in bantam, 234. His 350 double was the third highest in the Carnarvon Lanes YBC history which goes back three years.

Six bantam teams commenced league play for the first time this past week after four weeks of qualifying play. Each year the youngsters roll four qualifying weeks to determine their average and then teams are made up. It appears competition will be very keen this coming winter.

Richard Beer's Tigers have taken a two pt lead after the first week's play, picking up 16 pts. Second place with 14 are Jeff Warburton's Wranglers. The field is rounded out by Jimmy Masters Champions 11, Jason Stamp's Stompers 10, Andrew Boyes Cardinals 8 and Eric Johnson's Bobcats with 7.

Leading the averages in the boys division we have Jimmy Masters with 142 followed closely by Eric Johnson with 141 and Richard Beers with 130. In the girls divisions Tammy Masters leads with 97, Peggy Conway 93 and Elizabeth Lambert 92.

KINNETTE REPORT

by Kin Secretary Bev Elias

The Minden Kinnettes held their October meeting at the home of Kinnette Jean Jackson in Minden.

As we all had such a lovely and filling Thanksgiving we decided to have a pot luck supper. It turned out really well, the girls did a tremendous job with the food and we would especially like to thank Kinnette Jean for the use of her lovely home and charming hospitality.

The main topic at our meeting was our new cook books which we have on sale. They are really quite good and selling well and are called "Look & Cook". Anyone who doesn't have one and wants a book can contact Marg Prentice at 286-1428.

I would like to remind everyone that the Mentally Retarded are looking for donations this month, so when you receive your crocus bulb through the mail please reply. The Kinnettes of Minden have also purchased a beautiful crocheted table cloth which won first prize at the Kinmount Fair from Mrs. Schlosser, so we will soon be selling tickets on the table cloth at .50c each or 3 for $1. I am sure someone would just love to win this for Christmas.

Well Halloween will soon be with us, so all you drivers keep an eye out for the little Trick or Treaters. Well until next month, God Bless.

MEN'S COMMERCIAL TIGHTENS UP

CARNARVON — This past week in the commercial league, things tightened up considerably. Just two weeks ago Peterborough Lumber held a commanding 17 pt lead. However, that lead has now been chopped almost in half, as they now lead by a mere nine. Modern Electric and Ingoldsby have started to roll with Guilford Recreation not far behind.

The Lumbermen lead with 98 pts followed by Ingoldsby with 89, Modern with 86, Guilford 76, and Rockcliffe Hotel and NorPhoto tied at 71.

Ronnie Robinson, a master bowler on the tournament trail this year, came up with another fine evening with 286, 279, 248 for a 813 triple. Wes Stata also had a fine evening with 219, 277, 223 for 719. Harris Steele came up with the only 300 game of the evening, 313. Bob Heppleston was close with 299.

High averages after five weeks play have Ronnie Robinson 249, Wes Stata 242, Doug Robinson 228 and Fred Cox 220.

HITS AND MISSES LEAD TUESDAY

Doug Robinson continues to roll-up great games in the Tuesday 9 pm mixed league. He has his league leading average up to a lofty 248 after four weeks of action.

The Hits and Misses pulled ahead by six pts on Tuesday with 80. Right behind are the Wild Turkeys with 74 then the Castaways with 70. Rounding out the standings we have the Black Angels with 70, Odd Balls at 69 and Debbie's Bunch at 50.

For the first time hockey fans throughout Canada and the United States will choose the starting line-up for a National Hockey League All-Star team — the one to meet the Soviets early next year. Balloting will take place from October to mid-January for the February 8, 10 and 11 series, described by Alan Eagleson, Executive Director of the National Hockey League Players' Association as "a true test of world hockey supremacy". The series is considered important enough to close down the normal NHL schedule for the week the games are played in New York. The balloting has been made possible by Wilkinson Sword Canada who, in co-operation with the NHL and NHLPA, will be distributing millions of ballots through all NHL arenas and thousands of supermarkets and retail stores wherever Wilkinson shaving products are sold. Fans vote by making a cross against any six selected players. There is no limit to the number of times a consumer can vote. Each ballot will carry the names of 80 NHL players nominated by a special panel of the Professional Hockey Writers' Association, and there will be space for write-ins. The players, some of whom are pictured here, will be listed alphabetically and by position.

Hockey fans to select NHL All-Star line-up against Soviets

The fit never quit.

The starting line-up in one of the most exciting hockey spectacles in the history of the game will be decided by the fans.

From early October 1978 until mid-January 1979, hockey buffs across Canada and the United States will, for the first time, become more than armchair selectors as they participate in a ballot to choose the starting line-up for the National Hockey League All-Star team to meet the Soviets in a three-game series.

The series, described by Alan Eagleson, Executive Director of the National Hockey League Players' Association as: "a true test of world hockey supremacy", is considered so important that the normal league schedule will be closed down for the week the games are played in

New York, February 8, 10 and 11.

The balloting has been made possible by Wilkinson Sword Canada who, in co-operation with the NHL and NHLPA, will be distributing millions of ballots through all NHL arenas and thousands of supermarkets and retail stores wherever Wilkinson products are sold.

Fans may vote and change their minds as often as they wish.

Each ballot will carry the names of 80 NHL players who have been nominated by a special panel of the Professional Hockey Writers' Association. The players will be listed alphabetically and by position.

There will also be space for write-in nominees, like Bobby Orr, who will be back on the ice this fall.

Each NHL team will be represented in the ballot by a minimum of two players.

The ballots will be counted by an independent tabulation house and up-to-date results will be released regularly beginning early November.

An additional bonus for voting fans will be a 50 cent cash refund coupon with each ballot, against Wilkinson II shaving products.

When the fans have picked the starting line, the remainder of the players will be chosen by the team manager, and/or the coaches of the NHL All-Star team.

The NHL/Soviet series will replace the traditional All-Star Game between the Prince of Wales and Clarence S. Campbell Conference.

R. W. "Bill" BARBER for Reeve

I was born in Toronto, and am 59 years of age and the father of two children both of whom are married. I first started visiting Hawk Lake in 1929 and have cottaged regularly since 1935 on the same lake.

My wife Audrey and I retired in 1973 and took up permanent residence on Little Hawk Lake, so I have a first hand knowledge of some of the concerns of both the cottagers and the permanent residents.

I was employed by a large Crown Corporation for 33 years and during 10 of the years was Metallurgist, and during the latter 17 years was Production Manager responsible for the activities of up to 2000 employees. During this time, I was involved in all facets of senior business management, including the negotiating of labour union contracts.

My interests have always been associated with the North Country, and eventually in taking an active part in directing the orderly growth of the Township. More specifically, I am deeply interested in the protection of our environment, adequate zoning by-laws and properly planned land use. I feel that, along with the efficient day to day operation of the Township, more emphasis should be placed on the direction the Township will take over the next 20 years particularly with respect to such controversial subjects as Stanhope Airport, and the development of recreation parks and camping facilities.

I feel that Stanhope should protect local autonomy at all costs, and it would be my pleasure to represent the majority of taxpayers in Stanhope so that they may be assured that their vested interests in this community are properly protected.

Yours truly, R. W. "Bill" BARBER

GM Introduces New Fuel-Efficient Police Car

Canadian police officials were impressed with the new Chevrolet Malibu Police car, which is available in both two- and four-door sedan versions.

OSHAWA, Ont. — At a recent demonstration, senior police officials agreed that the 1979 Chevrolet Malibu 9C1 police car promises to be a worthy successor to the popular 9C1 Chevrolet Nova police unit — probably the most popular and cost-effective compact-sized police unit ever offered to law enforcement agencies in Canada and the United States.

General Motors of Canada's 2 745 mm (108.1-inch) wheelbase, mid-sized Malibu was demonstrated to a group of 40 Ontario police chiefs, senior Ontario Provincial Police and RCMP officers at a special "ride and drive" program held north of Oshawa recently. The police officers drove the Malibu over a special course that permitted them to simulate actual police vehicle operations, including high-speed pursuit.

General Motors introduced the Nova police car during the energy shortage in 1973 - '74, when it succeeded in filling the need for law enforcement men right across North America for a more economical, fuel-saving, lower-cost maintenance vehicle than previously employed by many police agencies. Due to redesign changes planned for Nova in early 1979, GM will not offer a Nova police car in '79, offering instead the Malibu — a product of finite element computer modeling analytical design, providing more economy, agility and roominess than its compact predecessor.

The new Malibu police car offers more interior room for the patrolman even though constructed on a shorter 2 745 mm (108.1 inch) wheelbase, compared to Nova's present 2 818 mm (111-inch) wheelbase. (1980 Nova, which will be introduced in February, 1979, will have a 2 664 mm (104-inch) wheelbase.

Available in both two- and four-door sedan versions, the 1979 Malibu sports appearance changes in grille, taillights and body mouldings. More importantly the 9C1 police package has been specifically engineered for the Malibu chassis to create a police vehicle combining the best compromise of roominess and performance found in both of the well-accepted Chevrolet Bel Air and Nova police units.

Major features of the 1979 Malibu 9C1 package include:

- Higher gauge frame.
- Heavy duty engine valve train.
- Greater capacity oil filter.
- Constant function fuel pump.
- Front and rear semi-metallic brake linings.
- Cast iron brake drums.
- Vented, high gauge wheels.
- Heavy-duty body mounts.
- 4000-watt battery equivalent to 80-amp hours.
- Special police suspension including front and rear stabilizer bars, special springs and shock-absorbers, and special jounce bumpers.
- Large capacity radiator.

On Sports

BY JOHN DALTON

Ron Guidry, the star left-handed pitcher of the New York Yankees, talks about the 1978 season:

Q. After just two full major league seasons, are you still getting better?

A. I think that this is about as good as I'm going to get. I know that I've come a long way.

Q. You were 24 and 3 during the regular season with a 1.74 earned run average, 243 strikeouts — and lots of records. Are you really that good?

A. I don't think a bad pitcher can win 20 games. If you're not at least an average pitcher, how in hell can you win 20 games?

Q. Were 20 victories your goal?

A. Well, anytime you win 15 games in the big leagues you've got to have a successful season.

Q. Did you ever imagine you would do anything like this in professional baseball?

A. I always wondered how it would feel to strike out a lot of guys in the big leagues.

Q. What about those Yankee Stadium crowds yelling for strikeouts all the time?

A. It doesn't affect me. I know what they want. But it's got to affect the hitter. With 40,000 fans screaming, it seems like that guy doesn't have a chance.

Q. What gives you the most satisfaction?

A. The thing I pride myself on is not getting into trouble, not giving up a big inning.

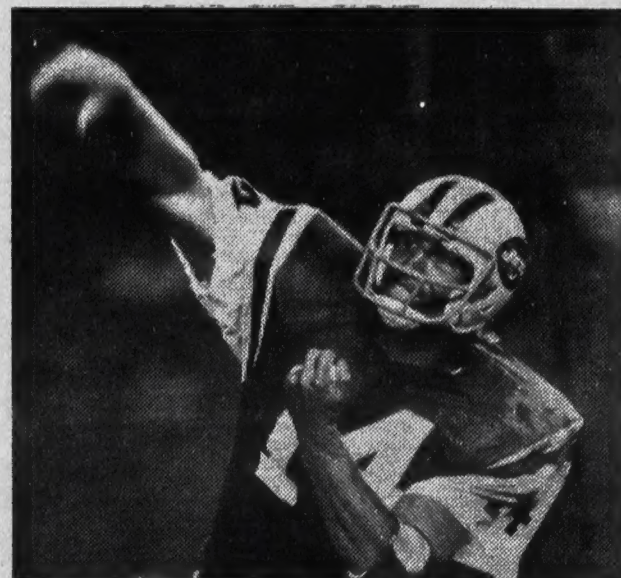

Q. Did you have any real problems during the season?

A. I guess the thing that hurts me more than anything else is pitching on a hot day. I have a habit of working very fast.

Q. What does all the acclaim really mean to you? Does it mean a lot?

A. I'm not one to really go out there to get attention. But it's nice. The fans have been a great help.

RICHARD TODD of the New York Jets is battling the injury jinx that plagues NFL quarterbacks. Todd, 24, off to a strong passing season, broke his left collarbone during a 23-3 loss to the Washington Redskins. He isn't expected to return before mid-November.

Ask Alma

Dear Alma: What would you do if you were twelve and your father bought beer and cigarettes but didn't buy the right foods for the table? I have been staying at my grandmother's and at least I get the foods I need. But my father doesn't buy my brothers and sisters and me school clothes either. What should I do? — P.D.

Dear P.D.: Without knowing both sides of the story, I can't tell you what to do about Dad, I can only advise you on how to take care of your own needs. The food problem you've apparently solved. For the other things you want, I suggest you try to get an after-school job like delivering circulars or baby-sitting. A daily paper route could yield several thousand dollars a year.

Lots of kids your age help out this way.

Dear Alma: I have been told that drinking milk and eating gelatin helps the fingernails grow. But when I eat gelatin and drink milk it doesn't seem to help my nails one bit. Please tell me what I can do to help my nails grow. — L.J., Fayetteville, N.C.

Dear L.J.: For someone whose body is deficient in protein, the collagen in milk and gelatin might help. Otherwise, the milk and gelatin routine for nails is an Old Wife's tale. If your body doesn't want to grow fingernails, there's very little you can do except keep what you do have in good shape. Be sure they're filed smooth and round, or the new square shape (points break too easily) and use one of the many commercial nail strengtheners on the market. A professional manicurist can give you a nail-care program if you want to splurge.
